Music Librarian Work Study

In the 17 years since its founding, the YPCO has had the honor and privilege of interacting with many talented musicians from many localities in central Ohio. While we believe that the fees charged to participate in the YPCO are very reasonable, we realize that families supporting musicians may incur some hardship when this activity must be balanced with other needs of a family.

To help out those musicians with financial needs, the YPCO is offering four work studies as music librarians. Duties include but are not limited to helping to sort and file music scores for the current season and to distribute music at rehearsals. These duties can be performed before rehearsals requiring the recipient to arrive 30 minutes prior to rehearsal. Also, after concerts recipients will sort and file music from folders. Other duties may include marking bowings, stamping new music and helping musicians find scores in the files. Other work study positions can be offered at the discretion of the YPCO Board and conductor.

To apply for this work study, a musician must submit an application by completing the information below. Attach a brief statement stating why you want this position. Include benefits to both YPCO and yourself. Submissions must be postmarked on or before August 1, 2017 to be considered.

The Work Study will be awarded anonymously, therefore no public announcement will be made. Recipients will be notified on or before August 15, 2017.

Work Studies are for half tuition and are good for one year only. Applicants need to reapply each year.
